Laser Acupuncture Therapy

Benefits

Laser Acupuncture Treatments are a drug-free, safe, painless and highly effective solution for smoking cessation. Treating only a few patients per week will initiate a return on investment. The program is easily incorporated into your existing health care practice or, as a free-standing smoking cessation clinic. Differentiate your services. Expand your business.

MedX has over a decade of experience in designing, manufacturing and distributing ground-breaking laser and light therapy technology. For a decade, MedX's reliable laser and light devices have been extensively used in rehabilitation and sports medicine, and more recently in the dental arenas. This expertise has now been incorporated into the MedX Acupuncture Handheld Laser devices for acupuncture and addictions.

MedX Acupuncture Laser Console System

The tethered MedX Handheld Laser is powered and controlled by the MedX 1100 console for fast, easy set-up. The Handheld Laser delivers 200 mW of infrared energy using an 808 nm GaAlAs infrared laser diode and visible red guide light. The ergonomic design ensures simplicity of use and accuracy for auricular and body acupuncture applications. The MedX Laser light guide has been developed specifically for Smoking Cessation Programs. See website for MedX Acupuncture Portable Laser.

Access to Years of Auricular Laser Smoking Cessation Therapy Experience

MedX has established an affiliation with several companies that provides low level laser therapy and energy medicine individualized educational programs to meet the needs of those who purchase MedX devices.

These training companies use Smoking Cessation protocols that have over 20 years of established, proven outcomes, with 70 – 72% success rates.

The instructors have a wealth of knowledge in auricular reflex therapy, laser therapy, as well as extensive experience in building successful practices across the US, Canada, Spain, Brazil and the Dominican Republic.

A comprehensive hands-on educational program addresses the physiological addiction including detoxification, breaking the habit and the psychological support components required for success.

- ↳ Auricular Laser Therapy - Relieves the physical need for the substance, without drugs.
- ↳ Cognitive / Behavioral Approaches – Ameliorates the psychological aspect of addiction and promotes an on-going healthy free lifestyle.
- ↳ Nutrition - Supports the body through chemical detox and aids in the repair of damaged tissue.

The results - delighted patients, increased referrals and amazing return on investment.

Marketing

These training companies have a range of Smoking Cessation marketing materials and services available to meet the specific needs of your practice and your particular clientele. You're not locked into a 'one size fits all' Smoking Cessation marketing program. You select from a variety of optional marketing materials.

Now you have an effective solution for Smoking Cessation.

Help your patients kick the habit ... and build your practice.
